

TRUTH

Biblical Christianity is all about truth. The Christian faith is not primarily about feeling, although deep feeling will surely result from the impact of truth on our hearts. It is not about human relationships, even though relationships are the main focus in many of today's pulpits. It is not about success and earthly blessings, no matter how much one might get that impression from religious television. Biblical Christianity is all about truth.

Everything we need to know for life and godliness is there for us in the Scripture. We don't need to consult any other source for spiritual or moral principles. Scripture is the rule by which all truth claims must be measured, it is the highest standard of all truth.

Christian truth is not subject to change or amendment. It isn't nullified by changes in worldly opinion or standards. It doesn't need to be adapted and redefined for new generations. Changing times do not change the truth; it is forever settled in Heaven.

The same truth Abraham, Moses, David, and the apostles believed is still truth for us. Scripture is as unchanging as God Himself; the Word of God endures forever. Scripture and the truth that it sets forth is precious, and must be carefully handled and closely guarded.

We must study for a proper understanding of Scripture, and study takes time. Spend time with God in the Scriptures.

Scripture: King James Version: I Timothy 6:20; II Timothy 2:15-19; I Peter 1:22-25; Jude 3.
